TROOPS ARRIVE ON SATURDAY

Third Battalion, Fifth United States Infantry, Expected to Arrive here at Half Past Eight on Saturday Morning.

This evening the Third Battalion, Fifth United States Infantry, will leave the barracks at Plattsburg, New York, for Gettysburg. They are expected to arrive here on Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock and will at once take up their camp along Long Lane in the rear of the Johns field.

The battalion will have their full camp equipment of wagons, mules and officers' horses, about twenty five head of stock being brought in on the troop train. Approximately 250 men will compose the command, which will be under Major Lasseigne.

The four companies of Regulars will be used almost entirely for guard duty at the big veterans' camp, and will be stationed here for an indefinite time, either until no longer required or until relieved by some similar body.

Every day witnesses the arrival of large consignments of material for the camp and quantities of canvas tents in five carload lots arrive daily. Thousands of dollars worth of lumber and wood are at camp together with tools of considerable value. It is necessary that all this be properly guarded and a sufficient patrol will be established to provide ample protection for all the government property.

The orders sending this battalion of infantry to Gettysburg stipulated that they arrive not later than May 3. Orders received at the Reading railroad offices here indicate that they will come in over that road Saturday morning and as they will come in a special train the trip should be made in sufficient time to allow their getting here about half past eight o'clock.

The trip from Plattsburg to Gettysburg is about fourteen hours long. From Plattsburg, the route lies to Albany, to New York, and then by way of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, finishing the last leg of the journey from Harrisburg over the Gettysburg and Harrisburg railroad.

At the outbreak of the war with Spain he enlisted and, being an expert horseman, was assigned to service in the Sheridan troop. Following the war he remained in Chambersburg a number of years and then went to Nebraska, where he opened a law office and was practicing when appointed by President Taft to a consular position. SANITARIUM IS BEING ERECTED

Dr. Goldsborough Having Three Story Sanitarium for Treatment of Nervous Diseases Erected Near Hunterstown.

Work has been started on the new three story sanitarium of Dr. C. E. Goldsborough on a seven acre tract of land which he recently purchased from Charles Mackley, of Harrisburg. The sanitarium or hospital will be located on an elevation on the tract which is situated on the road leading from Hunterstown to Guldens Station, and near the former place.

The building is being erected by Contractor G. H. Roth, of New Oxford, and is of cement blocks. It will present a very attractive appearance when completed. It is to be 40 x 38 feet and three stories in height, equipped with all conveniences and adapted perfectly to the uses of a sanitarium. The cement blocks are being furnished by Harry Felty, of New Oxford.

Dr. Goldsborough intends to have the treatment of patients suffering from nervous diseases as the principal end of the institution and its equipment will be with particular regard to people suffering from various forms of neurasthenia.

A physician will always be available at the new institution and Dr. Goldsborough's two daughters, Miss Virginia Goldsborough and Miss Lenore Goldsborough, both trained nurses and graduates of the University Hospital, Philadelphia, will have general charge of the sanitarium.

NEW OXFORD

New Oxford—Charles A. Diehl is recovering from injuries sustained one day last week when he was thrown from a load of hay by the sudden movement of the horses. He sustained a fracture of the left shoulder bone, several ribs cracked and the thumb on his right hand was badly broken. Mr. Diehl weighs about 200 pounds and he was severely shocked by the fall.

The York City and County Cadets will encamp at New Oxford June 28—July 6. The cadets are banded together for military instruction, are in full uniform, and will give evening exhibitions for the enjoyment of the residents of New Oxford.

The new candy kitchen, recently opened by Weaver Candy Co., is already crowded with orders, the demand being greater than the production. At least half a dozen ladies will be put to work in the new industry as soon as they can be secured.

The High School Commencement will be held in Miller's Hall, Friday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. Prof. George M. Richards, of Lancaster, will deliver the address: subject: "The Assets of an American Boy."

The New Oxford Shoe Manufacturing plant, spoken of some time ago as probably being removed from town, will remain here and be operated to its fullest capacity.

A special election was held Tuesday for the purpose of obtaining the assent of the electors of the School District to making valid and giving binding force to an increase of indebtedness of said school district to the amount of $14,350. The purpose for which said indebtedness was created and increased and the money raised on the issue of bonds, was for the purchase and preparation of a site for a new school building and the erection and equipment of said new school building. The vote resulted as follows:—For 133, against 31.

HIGH SCHOOL WON

High School Won Game from Emmitsburg School Boys.

The Gettysburg High School base ball team delighted its friends by defeating the Emmitsburg High School team on Prep Campus Thursday afternoon by the score of 16 to 3. The visitors were completely outclassed and the Gettysburg boys were never in danger. Preceding the game the faculty and pupils of the High School marched to the Prep campus headed by a drum corps and returned to town after the victory in a similar fashion.

Children Playing with Hatchet Have Painful Misfortune.

While the children of Edward Milhimes, of New Chester, were playing on Thursday morning one of his little daughters had the end of a thumb cut off with a hatchet, which they had been using in their play. Dr. Goldsborough dressed the injury.

TRAINS DELAYED BY W. M. WRECK

Pittsburgh Flyer Derailed Near Thurmont. Excursionists on Wednesday almost Missed Circus on Account of Long Delay.

Four coaches and the tender of the Pittsburgh Flyer, eastbound on the Western Maryland railroad, was derailed at Graceham, two miles north of Thurmont, Thursday morning. The track for 50 yards was torn up and traffic obstructed until a wrecking crew from Baltimore cleared the way, 10 hours later.

Two sleeping coaches in the rear, with 75 or 100 passengers, remained on the track. The flyer was slowing up to stop at Thurmont when from some unexplained cause the tender jumped the rails. The baggage, express, combination and a day coach followed. The Pullman passengers, most of whom were asleep, were awakened. Thinking the train had been wrecked, many made a dash for the doors. Order was restored by the trainmen and the passengers were transferred around the derailed cars to another train.

On Wednesday an excursion was run from Hagerstown to Baltimore. Ringling's Circus which many Gettysburg people enjoyed Thursday was also there the day preceding and a number of Wednesday's excursionists narrowly missed seeing it. The excursion on the way to Baltimore was held up for several hours at Glyndon owing to the wreck of a freight train at that place.

About 250 of the excursionists took the street cars to Baltimore from Glyndon and were delayed only an hour, arriving at their destination shortly after noon. The people who remained on the train until the track was cleared did not reach Baltimore until 2 o'clock.

The Gettysburg excursion Thursday got through only a half hour late. It carried 666 passengers and reached Gettysburg on its return at midnight.

WALKING TO COAST

Two Carlisle Boys Pass through here on Long Hike.

Clay Humer and Raphael Widner, of Carlisle, arrived in Gettysburg at six o'clock Thursday afternoon on their first day's trip of a journey on foot to the Pacific coast. They left this morning for Frederick.

They were attired in khaki uniforms with knapsacks over their backs on which was sewed a small pennant with the words, "Carlisle" on it. Each carried a cane and an extra pair of shoes.

From Frederick they go to Washington, D. C., and from there to various points, to El Paso, Fort Worth, Texas, Kansas Plains, Boythe, Colo., and then to San Francisco.

There is no time limit attached to their journey and they are taking the trip for the pleasure. They may not proceed directly to San Francisco however, but may decide later to alter their route somewhat and proceed to the Panama canal.

DEMONSTRATIONS IN THE COUNTY

Three Adams County Orchards Scenes of State Demonstration Work Next Week. Will Show Fruit Growers how to Save.

The annual spring series of public meetings in the demonstration orchards under the supervision of State Zoologist H. A. Surface begin in Adams county, on Monday, May 5th. At these meetings the demonstrator shows the most approved and modern methods of protecting fruit crops from such insects as codling moth and curculio, and from the various fungous diseases. As the blossoms open earliest in the southern counties of the State, the demonstrations are scheduled to begin in these counties first. Spraying should not be done while the blossoms are on the trees, but rather during the four or five days immediately after the petals have fallen.

The public exercises begin at one o'clock in the afternoon, and the demonstrator will be present regardless of the weather. Everybody is invited to be present. The following dates are announced:—Monday, May 5th, D. C. Jacobs, Gettysburg, R. No. 5; Tuesday, May 6th, I. D. Mickle, Cashtown; Wednesday, May 7th, Jacob Gochenour, Aspers.

Instructions will be given in pruning, spraying, cultivation, fertilization and general orchard management. The demonstrators will show how the best and cheapest materials are prepared, tested and applied in spraying orchards according to the needs of the growers.

It is the object of the tests not only to show how to save the orchards from the depredations of the pests, but as well to introduce in general practice improved methods of horticulture, by means of which a high grade of fruit can be grown at a minimum cost.

Spraying is one of the most disagreeable labors the farmer has to perform, and it may be truthfully said that it is one of the most necessary works. Two or three men are usually required to do this task and they don some of the cast-off clothing that may be found in the attic and they appear somewhat like the man who takes honey from bees. The manipulator of the spraying device wants to protect himself from getting splashed with the ingredient, for it is very unpleasant to have any amount reach the skin and very painful if some finds its way into the eyes.

The spraying solution is either in a barrel or tank and is hauled through the orchard between the rows while the sprayer applies the solution right and left on the trees.

SHENANDOAH

By HENRY TYRRELL

Founded on BRONSON HOWARD'S Great Play

A Stirring Story of Military Adventure and of a Strange Wartime Wooing

Copyright, 1912, by G. P. Putnam's Sons

Here Lieutenant Redloe thought to withdraw unnoticed, with a mere passing salute. But the general's keen eye had looked him over at a glance and with apparent interest, for he said quickly:

"One moment, lieutenant—your name?"

"Lieutenant Redloe, general," put in Heartsease promptly, "one of our best young officers."

CHAPTER XIII.

Signals From Three Top Mountain.

"PARDON me," murmured General Haverill, finally turning away from the youth. "Now, Colonel West, speaking of young officers, we have an adventurous piece of work for some one of them."

Here Frank stepped to hear the rest—"a dangerous mission, so much so that I shall not order any individual to undertake it. A volunteer to lead the venture is what we want."

"Oh, sir, general, may I have the chance?" cried Lieutenant Redloe. "I thought you had passed on, sir," returned the general, looking keenly at him again.

"If it is a scouting expedition, sir," the young man went on with irresistible eagerness, "I beg to say that I have made myself thoroughly acquainted with the region heretofore."

In fact, I was hoping to qualify as a scout. Please don't refuse me, sir."

General Haverill could not help showing that he was pleased.

"That is the right kind of talk," he declared, turning to the other officers. "Our young friend shall listen while I tell you what is required. We want the key to the enemy's cipher and signal code. They have a signal station on Three Top mountain yonder and another somewhere down the creek that is a nest of mischief to us. Every night we see their messages in fire on the mountain top, and we can't read them. What we want is a bold dash inside Early's lines and a sudden attack upon the station, with seizure of the papers and dispatches. If there is a practicable way of approach from this side of the mountain the thing might be risked with the right sort of a leader."

"I know of a path, general, and I believe I could accomplish the undertaking," urged Frank.

"Very well, Major McCandless of my staff here will take you to Young's headquarters. He will furnish scout, men and horses—and Confederate uniforms if needed. Now, lieutenant," here General Haverill took out his notebook—"give me a few particulars about yourself. Have you parents living?"

"I have the particulars regarding Lieutenant Redloe and his parents, general," said Heartsease, hastening to poor Frank's rescue.

"Very well, I will ask you for them if necessary. Goodbye, my lad," he added, turning to Frank and grasping his hand. "Do the best you can—no man can do more. Keep a brave heart and come back to us."

The young man bowed, saluted and started away. Heartsease met him at the end of the veranda, and they exchanged a whispered word. Then Heartsease returned, saying:

"Colonel West—aw—it's deucedly embarrassing, you know, but I shall have to ask leave of absence and go with him."

"Good boy, Heartsease! Well, ask the general. He can hardly refuse you."

"That's all right, but I've got to ask Miss Buckthorn, too, and the thought of that so stirs my emotions, that well, au revoir, colonel."

The day began very early at Belle Bosquet that golden October season in that restless year of war's alarms. It was scarcely an hour after sunrise when Colonel Ellingham and Madeline West, returning from their favorite walk to the neighboring hilltop, met Jenny Buckthorn, who had already been down to the camp to meet her father.

REFUSE TO PAY TRAINMEN MORE

Railroads Refuse to Grant Men's Demands.

WANT TO RAISE ALL RATES

Managers of Eastern Lines Declare Demands of Conductors and Others Would Cost $17,000,000 a Year.

New York, May 2.—Simultaneously the railroads of the east refused to grant the demands of their conductors and trainmen for an increase in pay and announced that they would ask the interstate commerce commission to permit an increase of 5 per cent on all freight rates.

The refusal to grant higher wages to the conductors and trainmen, the demands of the engineers and firemen having been settled by arbitration, was made public by the conference committee of the managers of the eastern roads.

The committee says the present rates of wages are liberal, and in many cases excessive and that the request for an increase is declined. "In the interests of owners of railroad securities, in the interests of all railroad employees—in the interests of the public as a whole."

"The wages and working conditions which you request," says the reply, "would increase the pay of the 100,000 conductors and trainmen of the railroads in the eastern district by approximately $17,000,000, or 20 per cent per annum."

"The increase would be equivalent to placing on these properties a lien of $125,000,000 of 4 per cent securities which would have a preference over first mortgage bonds."

"If the railroads are forced to pay extravagant wages to men in train service, the burden must fall on the public. You will readily see, therefore, why, in considering your demands, we hold the public interest paramount."

"Already the traffic of a growing country has overtaken the existing facilities; and the heavy burdens incurred through ill-advised legislation, such an extra crew bill—for which the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen is alone responsible—have forced on the railroads, and consequently on the public, needless expenditures of millions of dollars annually. All of these factors are making it impossible for many of the roads to provide those facilities which prudent foresight demands, and which the interests of the public require."

"In making demands for extravagant wages—wages entirely out of accord with the railroads' obligations as a whole—railway employees apparently act on the assumption that a strike that would tie up traffic would never be permitted by the public. They seem to think that if a strike is to be avoided the railroads must give way—that the public will force them to give way, believing that arbitration must take place, and that in the end the splitting of differences between what they demand and the wages they receive will result in their favor."

"In other words, the employees have everything to gain and nothing to lose."

The submission of the railroads' answer followed a series of conferences between the committee of managers and a committee of the conductors' and trainmen's organizations. Upon its receipt the conductors' and trainmen's committee went into conference to consider what further action should be taken.

The decision to ask the interstate commerce commission to allow a 5 per cent increase on freight of all character was made known in a statement issued by Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio.

Mr. Willard is the head of a committee of railway presidents representing the principal lines east of Chicago and north of the Ohio river.

KILLED SON-IN-LAW
Slayer, With Block of Wood, Beat Antagonist to Death.

Allentown, Pa., May 2.—Peter Eck, twenty-eight years old, of Macungie, was beaten to death, according to the police, with a block of wood by his father-in-law, Henry Peto, at the latter's home near Maple Grove, in Berks county, just across the Lehigh county line.

Both had been drinking heavily, and Peto is said to have interfered when Eck, it is alleged, beat his wife. The room in which the quarrel occurred looks like a shambles, with its splashings of blood. Peto and his family have fled. Two state policemen are on his trail.

Woman Shoots Druggist.
Vineland, N. J., May 2.—Following a bitter quarrel, Antonio W. Masi, a druggist, was shot by Mrs. Ernesta Cervini, a woman with whom he had been boarding. The shot was fired in Masi's pharmacy on Landis avenue. Masi says the bullet struck a package of papers in his coat pocket and only slightly wounded him.

Child Burned to Death.
Norristown, Pa., May 2.—Joseph Zeln, four years old, was burned to death at Conshohocken. He was playing with matches when he set fire to his clothing.

SPEEDER WAS MISS WILSON
Chauffeur Who Drove President's Daughter Pays $5 Fine.

New York, May 2.—William J. Greenwood, a taxicab chauffeur, was fined $5 for driving Miss Margaret Wilson, the president's daughter, and her escort up Broadway at a speed of twenty-four miles an hour.

The policeman who appeared against Greenwood said that when he stopped the taxicab Greenwood told him that his passengers were the president's daughter and Boyd Fisher, manager of the Social Center, and that they were hurrying to pick up a Princeton professor who had to catch a train for Princeton.

Washington, May 2.—Senator O'Gorman introduced a bill to authorize the secretary of war to give a medal to each surviving Union and Confederate soldier of the battle of Gettysburg. The bill would appropriate $30,000 for the purpose.

RHEUMATIC SUFFERER ASTONISHED

RHEUMA Acts on Kidneys, Liver and Blood the First Day—and Out Goes Uric Acid Poison.

Anybody can afford to pay 50 cents to get rid of terrible Rheumatism, Sciatica or Gout, and that's all RHEUMA costs at The People's Drug Store they say if it doesn't do all that is claimed for it, money back.

It's wonderful how speedily this simple remedy takes hold and how the sore muscles limber up and the swollen joints come down to normal. Make no mistake—RHEUMA costs but little, but it's the best remedy you can find to drive Rheumatic poison from the system and bring back health to misery-racked bodies.

"I had rheumatism for a long while, and tried many medicines, but was not cured until I used RHEUMA. I cannot praise RHEUMA too highly. My advice to those suffering from Rheumatism is to use this great remedy, as I believe it will effect a permanent cure in any case."—C. B. Lanham, Sattes, W. Va., April 27, 1912.

Who's Who In Merchandising

When a manufacturer perfects some new article of merit, the first question that comes up is how to market it; how to create a demand for it.

The usual answer is to place his article in the leading stores and then to co-operate with the retailer in announcing through the newspapers its chief points of excellence.

The newspaper is chosen because it is the most potent medium for spreading information, the surest way of reaching the greatest number of people in the quickest space of time.

It is not surprising that so much of our present day information, especially that which benefits us the most, comes from the habit of reading newspaper advertisements.

A little careful study each day gives us a practical working knowledge of every worthwhile store and most of the leading and dependable lines of merchandise in the world.

WILSON SEES TEST OF TREATY

Litigation May Follow Passage of Alien Land Bill

VOTE ON MEASURE TODAY

Secretary Bryan Visits Japanese Colony Near Sacramento and Stops at District School.

Sacramento, Cal., May 2.—The vote in the senate on the Webb alien land bill, aimed at the Japanese, was put over until today on motion of Senator Curtin, and the possibility of developments before that time is being discussed on all sides here.

This action was taken soon after the senate convened, and after the following telegram from President Wilson to Governor Johnson was made public by the governor:

"I take the liberty of calling your attention to the Webb bill, which would involve an appeal to the courts on the question of treaty rights, and bring on what might be long and delicate litigation."

Governor Johnson telegraphed this reply:

"I thank you very much for your suggestion. The fault may be due to the fact that we have endeavored to preserve affirmatively upon the face of our bill the existing treaty. I have referred the matter at once to our attorney general, and I would be extremely grateful for any suggestion that would avoid the objection you mention."

Governor Johnson transmitted the correspondence to Senator Thompson, one of the authors of the original alien land bill, with this comment:

"In consultation with Attorney General Webb, we are unable to see how any language can be employed which might not be ultimately subject to the same objection that is suggested in the president's telegram."

"The attorney general in the bill prepared has endeavored affirmatively to preserve all treaty rights, and any bill that might be passed upon the subject of alien land ownership, of course would, from our standpoint, endeavor in the most emphatic fashion to protect our national good faith in the matter of treaties that have heretofore been executed and none of us would impair—no matter what might be the legal question involved—the obligations of any treaty that may have been heretofore made."

"This being our desire, it seems to me the attorney general and myself that no language can be employed that will not be equally open to the objection suggested."

The Japanese problem as it actually exists on the farm and ranches of Sacramento valley was viewed at close range by Secretary Bryan on a two hour automobile trip through the thickly populated Florin district, ten miles south of the capital.

Governor Johnson and Assemblyman Bradford accompanied the secretary armed with facts and figures to explain the scenes that met the eyes of their visitor, and Mr. Bryan seemed deeply interested. His only comment was that he had seen "not only a Japanese colony, but a very pretty California valley."

In the Florin district, embracing about twenty-five square miles of rich soil, there is a population of 1500 Japanese farmers and 400 Americans. Twelve years ago there were less than a score of Japanese in the community; now they practically control the grape and berry industry of that section. They own the factory where the berry boxes are made, and when the party visited the shop Mr. Bryan saw thirty-five Japanese girls at work. He was told by Governor Johnson that six years ago American girls were employed there at higher wages and with shorter hours of labor.

A stop was made at the district school of Florin, where the party visited the first grade. It was a typical schoolroom, with pictures of Washington and Lincoln on the walls, but the seats below there were twenty-two Japanese children and twenty American boys and girls. The American youngsters were six and seven years of age, while the Japanese included several who were sixteen and so large that special desks had been supplied for them.

With the enactment of legislation in eight, opinions on the measure are conflicting, some observers contending that the Webb bill, drafted by California's attorney general, is really a more drastic anti-Japanese bill than any of the others considered, and others contending that, from a viewpoint of diplomatic negotiations with Japan, it is a most satisfactory measure.

REPUBLICANS TO QUIT VAIN TARIFF EFFORT

Business Wishes Speedy Adjustment of Affairs.

Washington, May 2.—There were indications that Republican leaders in the house of representatives would not undertake to delay the passage of the Underwood tariff bill much longer.

Representative Moore, of Pennsylvania, who has been active in offering minority amendments, voiced this view.

He said the Republicans would not attempt to filibuster, and that they had been "hammering away at the Underwood bill for four days without making a single dent in it."

The fact that many who declare their business is affected are asking the Republicans to hasten matters in order that they may "readjust their affairs," is said to be partly responsible for the minority attitude.

All efforts of the opposition to disturb the "market basket" reductions in the Democratic tariff bill failed in the house, despite the fact that Republican orators sounded warnings of ruined industries, enforced idleness and empty cupboards to follow the enactment of the bill.

Still championing the bill as the greatest that ever has been written for the benefit of the people of the country, the Democrats were deaf to the pleas of representatives of the beet and cane sugar constituencies against free sugar in three years; unmoved by the charge that they legislated into the hands of the beef trust by placing duties on live stock while free listing their products; determined to rush the passage of the bill at the earliest possible moment.

25,000 STORE CLERKS STRIKE

Department Establishments at Buffalo Asked to Pay More Wages.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 2.—More than 25,000 department store employees, involving every establishment of the kind in this city, went on strike for increased wages and a shorter work day.

Employees of hardware stores and of the five-and-ten-cent stores participated. The delivery system was tied up completely.

Twenty-five Buffalo stores are involved in the wage and hours of service dispute. The workers are asking for an $8 a week minimum wage for girls and women; $15 minimum wage for men; $8 minimum wage for boys, and $18 a week for drivers and chauffeurs.

They ask that no employee be asked to work longer than eight hours a day, and that the stores be closed at 5 o'clock every evening. Also they ask for Saturday half holidays during June, July, August and September, with full pay. The present average weekly wage of the girl clerks is said to be only $5.

RAILROADS OBEY

"FULL CREW" LAW

New Act Now in Effect in New Jersey.

Philadelphia, May 2.—The "full crew" law passed by the New Jersey assembly compelling all railroads in the state to carry a certain number of operating men on their trains, went into effect yesterday.

Although the railroads bitterly opposed the law, they have complied with its requirements and will do so until the constitutionality of the measure is tested.

The law specifies that crews on freight trains of less than thirty cars shall consist of not fewer than five men, and on trains of more than thirty cars at least six men. On passenger trains of not more than three cars, the crew must consist of at least five men, and on trains of more than four cars, there must be six men.

Little change had to be made on trains operating in Pennsylvania. This was due to the fact that a similar "full crew" law has been in force in Pennsylvania for some time. In justification of its protest against the law, the Pennsylvania railroad points out that its enforcement in this state alone means an annual expense of $600,000.

The railroads hardest hit were those operating exclusively within New Jersey or entering New Jersey from New York and Delaware.

COBB IS REINSTATED

Detroit Player Is Fined $50 by the National Commission.

Chicago, May 2.—The National Base Ball Commission finished its two-day meeting here and then went out to see the Chicago-Cincinnati game.

No announcement was made at the adjournment as to its decision in Ty Cobb's case, but later in the day it was announced that the commission had reinstated the Detroit star and imposed a paltry fine of $50.

It was expected that some nominal sum would be chalked up against Ty Cobb, but no one thought that it would be so small as $50. In view of the fact that Cobb gained an increase of about $2500 over his salary of last year he can afford to smile at the outcome of the session.

Postal Savings Director Resigns.

Washington, May 2.—Theodore L. Weed, director of the postal savings system, resigned, the resignation to become effective June 30. He will go into business in New York.

If the hens are getting into the habit of eating eggs it is fair to assume that they do not have the lime they need for egg shell production.

A strong point in favor ofilage as a staple farm feed is that when properly put up it will keep in good condition not only one year, but for three or four years.

The average weight of hogs is decreasing every year. Some markets will not take a heavy hog at all unless it be in the dead of winter, and then they don't like to do it.

CARNEGIE DON'T FEAR JAPAN

Peace Congress Stands Up to Prove They're Not Afraid.

HE COMPARES THE NAVIES

Former Iron Master Declares War Will Soon Be a Thing of the Past.

St. Louis, Mo., May 2.—Andrew Carnegie, while delivering the principal address at the opening session of the fourth American Peace Conference in this city, was interrupted by a person in the audience who asked the millionaire peace advocate: "How about Japan?"

"Well," replied Mr. Carnegie, "Japan has nineteen battleships and we have thirty-three and more coming."

The questioner admitted this, but said: "Right now we are in mortal terror."

Then Mr. Carnegie appealed to the audience.

"Let every one who is not afraid of Japan stand up," said Mr. Carnegie.

Practically the entire audience which filled the large music hall where the sessions are being held, stood up.

Mr. Carnegie then turned to his questioner, saying:

"Nobody is in mortal terror but you."

Delegates from all parts of the country were present and heard Mr. Carnegie tell why he believed that war would soon be a thing of the past. He dwelt upon the cost and destruction entailed by war and said he believed the United States never need fear a foreign invasion. President Wilson and his administration he predicted would gain immortal glory by dealing successfully with the question of world peace.

The speaker pictured a possible foreign invasion as follows: "British authorities consider it might be possible for an enemy to land as many as 170,000 men upon their island in three weeks, and they believe they have provided a force sufficient to deal with this number. We could cope with seven times this number of invaders."

"I believe in the League of Peace idea, the formation of an international police, never for aggression, always for protection, if needed, of the peace of the civilized world. This requires only the agreement of a few of the leading nations. Recently six of these—Britain, France, Germany, Russia, Japan and America—combined their forces in China, under command of a German general, for a specific purpose, which was successfully accomplished.

"Recently world peace was upon the eve of victory. A treaty of peace was signed by Britain, France and our government which would have prevented war between civilized powers because Germany would have joined us, as its ambassador intimated. A joint remonstrance against war by these four powers would have given any power threatening war a genuine intimation that they were expected to follow the example of those who had abolished war and who had interests in the preservation of peace which could not be and would not be overlooked, and peaceful adjustment would be certain."

"Why this treaty failed to receive the support of the senate need not be here dwelt upon. Suffice to say the fault was not altogether that of the senate—sometimes a blunder is said to be worse than a crime. Well, some one blundered. Looking backward the error is now clearly seen, and we venture to predict that the present administration will deal successfully with this vital question."

HOME CURED MEATS.

A reader of these notes who for several years past has been enjoying his own home cured hams and bacon gives the writer the following recipe, which he uses in preparing them: As soon as the meat is gone from the fresh killed carcass it is cut up into the desired sized pieces and dry pickled in the following mixture: For 700 pounds of meat he takes sixteen quarts of barrel salt, one and one-half pounds of black pepper, half a dollar's worth of brown sugar and three ounces of saltpeter. This mixture should be thoroughly stirred until all the ingredients are well mixed. He first places a coating of the dressing on the sinning table where the meat is to remain during the pickling process. Into the surface of each piece the mixture is thoroughly rubbed, particularly into the cut surface and those close to the bones. After being rubbed the pieces are placed on the table referred to. The hams are placed separately, and the side pieces intended for bacon are corded up, with layers of the preservative between. From seven to eight days are required to properly pickle the bacon, and from eleven to fourteen days are needed for the hams. If parts become uncovered during the pickling process barrel salt may be used to cover them. In smoking the meats the time required varies for the hams and bacon and whether one wishes the meat lightly or heavily smoked. On being taken from the smokehouse the pieces of meat are placed in unwashed flour sacks, so the sack will hang below the meat, and they will keep in this way for years. Our friend says this home cured meat is so good that it makes his mouth water every time he smells it frying.

POWERS NOT TO USE FORCE ON MONTENEGRO

To Delay Action on Evacuation on Scutari.

London, May 2.—The powers will not take steps to coerce Montenegro at the present. The ambassadors at their meeting came to the conclusion that in view of the attitude shown by Montenegro it was unnecessary to proceed with immediate measures of coercion. Despite the resolve of the ambassadorial conference, at which Sir Edward Grey, the British secretary of state for foreign affairs, presided, the Russian minister to Montenegro presented a curt note to King Nicholas, urging immediate compliance by Montenegro with the demands of the European powers, and intimating that a policy of defiance was likely to lead to the ruin of Montenegro. The moderate tone of Montenegro's reply to the European powers has cleared much of the electricity out of the diplomatic atmosphere. There is now a feeling that an early arrangement will be resumed. The impression derived by diplomats in London from the Montenegrin note is that King Nicholas is extending his hand, waiting for the "compensation" which is to be offered him to quit Scutari.

Medical advertising CAUSE OF IMPURE BLOOD

Druggist Tells of Best Remedy. Pure healthy blood is a most essential factor to good health. Poor, thin, devitalized blood may be caused by a weakness of the digestive organs, an accumulation of waste matter in the system, an inactive liver or lack of exercise. Whatever the cause the best remedy we know is our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol. It will purify and enrich the blood, tone up the digestive organs, give you a hearty appetite and create strength. A case has just come to our attention from Schenectady, N. Y. Mrs. Hattie Hall says: "I was forcibly reminded that my system was run down and my blood in bad condition by an abscess forming in my side which required treatment for several weeks. Under the regular use of Vinol to purify and enrich my blood and build up my strength this was soon healed, and my general health was much improved. If you have the slightest indication of poor blood take Vinol. If it fails to help you we will give back your money. Peoples' Drug Store, Gettysburg, Pa.

THE JOKE WAS ON THE CONGRESSMAN

When Vice President Sherman Put One Over on Mann.

A number of years ago Uncle Joe Cannon and a party of congressmen made a trip down through the West Indies. Representative J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania was historian of the expedition, and the late Vice President Sherman and Representative James R. Mann of Illinois were two of its most active members. At San Juan, Porto Rico, they found the local legislature in session and were warmly received.

"One of them seemed very much interested in Mr. Mann," said Mr. Moore "and told him he had read every one of his speeches in the Congressional Record."

"At this Sherman gasped and, grasping the colored member warmly by the hand, exclaimed: "Allow me to express my pleasure upon meeting the busiest man in Porto Rico."

A Ready Answer. "Be mine. I cannot live without you!" "Bah!" said the heiress. "You have lived without me for years." "True," exclaimed the duke, "but the cost of living has got to me at last."—Louisville Courier Journal.

Wonderful. "He writes poetry for a living." "How wonderful!" "Yes. How wonderful that he gets his living."—Detroit Free Press.
